Code of Conduct

1. All members are responsible for maintaining a positive public image and perception of the organization while representing B.A.A.C., or at B.A.A.C. rides and/or events. Under no circumstance should any member conduct themselves in a way as to bring discredit to the good reputation of B.A.A.C.

a. A member may not publicly make any statements, in any manner of communication, or commit any act that portrays the organization or its members in a negative or unfavorable manner.

b. Members are to promote cooperative co-existence with motorcycle clubs and other organizations.

c. Members are expected to treat fellow members and guests of members with courtesy and respect.

d. Members are to respect the rights of all persons of the general community while representing B.A.A.C.

2. Members are expected to promote motorcycle safety, ride responsibly and encourage new membership.

3. Members are expected to be responsible pet owners (if a pet owner) and advocate such to all other pet owners.

4. Members must adhere to the "chain of command" on all complaint issues. For purposes of explanation, the "chain of command" shall be as follows: Member > Board of Directors > Officers. Should one of the links in this chain be unavailable, not in effect, or the subject of the grievance, the next higher level in command shall be contacted.

5. Any grievance between members shall also be directed to the Board of Directors following the chain of command. The Board of Directors has the right to take appropriate disciplinary action against any members in violation of this Code of Conduct, including written or oral reprimand, suspension or revocation of membership, in accordance with B.A.A.C. by-laws.

a. Any member having had disciplinary action taken against them may not be nominated for, elected, or appointed to an officer position or the Board of Directors.

b. Making malicious or intentionally false reports of a violation of the Code of Conduct is itself a violation and subject to disciplinary action as stated above.
